Do you need to make a coastal permit application?

You may need a coastal permit if your proposed activity will occur within the coastal marine area. The coastal marine Area (CMA) includes the foreshore, the seabed, the sea surface and the air above the sea from the mean high water springs (MHWS) mark to the 12 mile limit as illustrated below:

MHWS means the average of each pair of successive high waters during that period of about 24 hours in each semi-lunation (approximately every 14 days, when the range of tides is the greatest). Visually this level is generally close to being the "high water mark" where debris accumulates on the shore annually.

The CMA can also include river mouths and estuaries. Where the MHWS mark crosses a river, the landward boundary at that point shall be whichever is lesser of 1 kilometer upstream from the mouth of the river or the point upstream that is calculated by multiplying the width of the river mouth by 5.

Such activities in the CMA which require a coastal permit include the following:

- Building or altering any structure on the foreshore or seabed (e.g. seawall, jetty, culvert, stormwater outfall, swing or pile mooring)
- Undertaking works which will alter the foreshore or seabed or adversely affect marine plants or animals or their habitat (e.g. extracting sand, reclamation, dredging, disturbance, deposition of material)
- Occupying land of the Crown in the coastal marine area (with for example structures, moorings, special activities)
- Introducing or planting any exotic or introduced plant in, on, or under the foreshore or seabed
- Noisy activities (e.g. fireworks displays, power boat competitions)
- Any other activity which is not permitted by the Regional Coastal Plan
